Halloween starts on Friday and I haven't got anything up! I really wanted to give my little sprite a little something, but I seem to have run out of time. By the way the Spongebob cake was made for my friend, Laura. She loves Spongebob so I made it for her. "Let's get Spongebob some pizza!" For this cake I used a very old cake recipe. I don't think it will work again (it's too old) but it's a "delicious" recipe. -- Some of you may recognize this as a Spiderman cake that I made a while ago. This is the original cake: Sorry the picture is pretty bad. Anyway, here's the recipe: Suzanne's Chocolate Cake 1 cup of butter (melted) 2 cups of sugar 2 eggs 1/2 of a teaspoon of vanilla 1 cup of flour 1 tablespoon of cocoa 1 teaspoon baking soda 1/2 teaspoon of baking powder 1/2 teaspoon of salt 1 teaspoon of cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon of nutmeg 1/2 teaspoon of mace Heat the oven to 200°C and prepare 2 9" cake-tins. Melt the butter and let it cool. Add the sugar and the eggs. Whisk them well and add the vanilla. In a

Category: Epigrammatists Remember when you used to put "S" in front of a girl's name? You'd think, "Yeah, this is a pretty good name." Then college came along and your mind filled with all the names that are used instead. Names like "Sue" or "Suzanne" (that one's a mouthful). You know what I'm talking about. You've been single for longer than you can remember. And the names are all coming at you all at once. Your mind has gone blank. You're trying to come up with something fun and creative that isn't filled with a "S", a "K" or a "C". But you don't have a clue. You've got a couple more days, but before then, you've got to try to come up with a name that will make your date say, "Whoa!" If you don't have a good, unique idea in your head, and you're really trying to come up with something, I've got you covered. Go to www.mynameis.com. It's an amazing name search engine. Use that site to help brainstorm something fresh and unique. MyNameIs is a name search engine and name generator that will help you to find unique names that are "out of the box" and will help you to find names with great meanings, such as "Zara". Australia will experience its warmest day in more than a century as bushfires devastated New South Wales and Victoria and parched south-east Australia braces for a day of heat that could break records. A torrid southerly turned the clock back when noon yesterday hit a sweltering 31.5°C on the Geelong coast, a full 8°C above average. To put that into perspective, on Jan. 21, 1973 – the hottest in Victoria and Australia – the maximum temperature was just 27.5°C. With the mercury set to climb to 38.6°C, at many inland points, it could be the warmest day for at least the past three years, and maybe longer. Gale warnings have been issued for major firegrounds in Victoria, with many in the state expected to reach the equivalent of an orange-level fire danger by Thursday, a level unseen since the Ash Wednesday fires that burnt through Victoria in 2003.
